

OUT-OF-HOME ADVERTISING: A RENAISSANCE IN THE DIGITAL AGE

Paper Premise

This white paper explores the enduring power of out-of-Home (OOH) advertising in a digital marketing landscape. While traditionally static, OOH is experiencing a renaissance fueled by digital integration.

This paper examines the current OOH landscape and then dives into its exciting future, exploring the integration of digital displays, programmatic buying, and data-driven targeting that are transforming the industry.

We then skim through the significant business benefits of OOH in relation to its ability to reach and influence the decision-making of the masses and how OOH assists in building brand awareness and brand image with an emotional connection. Later, in this paper, we go through the best practices to maximize the ROI with OOH and take a glimpse into the exciting future of OOH with regard to technology and data.

Audience

This paper aims at the C-suite of organizations, cross-functional decision-making leadership, and transformation consultants. It aims to define a unified platform roadmap and transform enterprises to fulfil the needs of the next-generation customer and align with the new norms of a changing business landscape.

Contents

Paper premise.....	2
Audience.....	2
1. Introduction.....	4
2. What is DOOH?.....	5
3. Significance of DOOH.....	5
4. Reasons behind the renaissance	6
5. Business benefits	8
6. Maximizing ROI.....	9
7. Future of OOH with regards to technology & data.....	11
8. Here's how Cybage can assist you in adapting OOH advertising.....	11
9. Conclusion	13

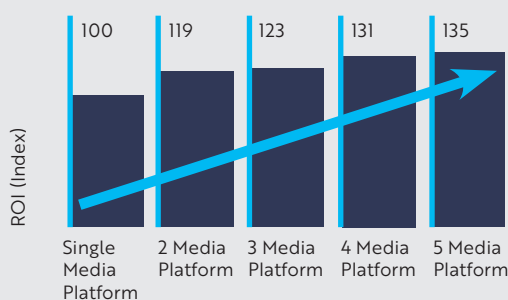

Out-of-home advertising has been a mainstay in the media mix for decades. Its influence is undeniable, with research by Morning Consult and the OAAA revealing that 88% of U.S. adults notice OOH ads within a month, and 78% take action after seeing them.

How out-of-home advertising fits into the marketing mix

A guide to elevating your next multi-channel advertising campaign.

Data shows Out-of-home + Multiple platforms = Better results

“The combination of TV, Digital and Out of Home drives a 27% increase on top of the ROI delivered by each of the mediums separately.”

- Paul Sinkinson, Managing Director of Analytic Partners

Out-of home advertising improves your overall campaign results.

The landscape is evolving

While core principles like compelling storytelling remain important, there's a surge in creative innovation and digital integration driven by advancements in digital technology and data analytics.

The future lies in blurring the lines between static and interactive experiences, as static billboards with dynamic digital content powered by sensors and real-time data are becoming increasingly prominent.

Contrary to popular belief, DOOH (digital out-of-home) advertising is not just a luxury for bigger brands. Increased availability, reduced costs, and an increasingly crowded online market are now drawing smaller businesses towards digital display advertising, opening up new avenues for growth.

Businesses are quickly waking up to DOOH's possibilities, resulting in an upward trend predicted to continue throughout the decade's first half.

Valued at US $41.06bn in 2020, the DOOH advertising market is set to grow significantly to $50.42bn by 2026.

02 What is DOOH?

DOOH stands for digital out-of-home advertising

Out-of-home advertising covers all media that targets consumers in public places, such as

- Printed ads on city billboards
- Trains, bus shelters, stations and airports
- Anywhere else that isn't the consumer's private space

Digital out-of-home advertising is simply the digitized version of these ads

So, rather than having a static poster on a billboard, you have a dynamic digital screen display that shows eye-catching and engaging advertising content, often on a loop of different ads.

03 Significance of DOOH

3.1 Significance of Programmatic DOOH

1. One aspect that puts smaller businesses off using DOOH is the 'perceived cost'.
2. Another is the 'perceived time cost'—with many human intermediaries and slow, manual insertion processes, traditional OOH buying hasn't been appealing to companies with low headcounts and with plenty of other priorities to juggle.

Programmatic DOOH (or pDOOH) operates on a fully automated system, handling the buying, selling, and delivery of DOOH—much like how online ad content is bought and sold. This automation can simplify the process and make it more accessible for smaller businesses.

3.2 Significance of DOOH Opportunities Increasing

1. One simple reason smaller businesses should consider DOOH is that there's more digital media space available now than ever before.
 2. Digital billboard space is no longer the preserve of big city centers; it is now found in smaller towns, bus shelters, and train carriages across the country.
- ii. Smaller local brands can make themselves more visible in prominent local spaces – for local businesses like estate agents, restaurants, law firms and independent retail outlets, this can be a huge opportunity to engage with likely-to-buy audiences.

This means two things for small businesses considering DOOH:

- i. Prices have dropped thanks to increased availability, making DOOH
3. Lower barriers to entry have enabled a wider range of businesses to take advantage of DOOH.

04

Reasons behind the renaissance

1. Digital out-of-home Advertising Provides Better Visibility

It's increasingly hard to stand out online

In addition to a whole new demographic of businesses competing for attention and ad space, thanks to external factors such as the COVID-19 pandemic, imminent cookie deprecation, and GDPR/CCPA regulations, advertisers also have to deal with 'screen fatigue' as a result of work-from-home initiatives.

Recent research by The Harris Poll reveals a significant shift in consumer behaviour. Digital burnout is now a prevalent issue, with 68% of consumers acknowledging that they spend excessive time in front of screens.

On the other hand, OOH advertising—and DOOH advertising in particular—is being noticed by consumers with a new fondness and appreciation for outdoor recreation.

According to The Harris Poll's research, consumers are noticing OOH ads 45% more than pre-pandemic levels.

OOH engaging consumers more than ever

Covid-driven consumer behaviour

Consumers have renewed appreciation for the outdoors and the safety it offers

69% increased appreciation for their outdoor surroundings

65% get out the house as often as possible

40% walking more since the pandemic hit

65% trying to find safe outdoor activities

Consumers noticing OOH ads at even greater levels

+45% versus pre-pandemic

OOH is equipping consumers with the knowledge they need

2. Digital Out-of-home Advertising Reaches People When They're Most Open

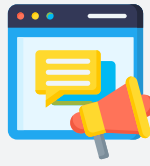

- i. Web-based advertising is often seen as an intrusion. you're not wasting your budget on ads that no one sees.
- ii. Online ads become something to skip past as soon as possible— or, in some cases, remove entirely with an ad blocker.
- iii. DOOH is visible to significant volumes of people and can't be skipped past, tuned out, or blocked so you know
- iv. DOOH campaigns can engage consumers while they are essentially killing time—whilst travelling, for example.
- v. Using DOOH to grab their attention with games, competitions, or engaging information can be a great tactic to fill that void and build brand awareness.

By contrast,

The technological advancements and data-driven approach of OOH advertising offer significant benefits:

- 1. Mass Reach & High Impressions: OOH placements guarantee impressions in high-traffic areas through strategically placed billboards, transit ads, and street furniture, making it a potent tool for brand awareness, product recognition, and influencing purchase decisions, unlike online ads that can be easily blocked.
- 2. Measurable Results: Track website traffic, app downloads, or foot traffic near OOH placements to gauge real-time campaign effectiveness.
- 3. Enhanced Targeting: Reach the right audience at the right time with location-based targeting and programmatic buying.
- 4. Personalized Experiences: Personalize the OOH experience based on demographics and real-time data to create a more impactful connection with consumers.
- 5. Brand Awareness & Building Recognition: Strategic OOH placements can significantly increase brand awareness and product recognition, especially for new businesses or product launches.
- 6. Influencing Purchase Decisions: Well-placed OOH ads can influence consumer behavior at the point of sale, reminding them of desired products or prompting them to visit nearby stores.
- 7. Complements Digital Marketing Strategies: OOH advertising can perfectly complement online marketing campaigns by driving traffic to websites and social media pages or promoting app downloads with QR codes.
- 8. Building Brand Image & Emotional Connection: OOH's creative possibilities allow for impactful visuals and storytelling that can evoke emotions and strengthen brand image.

Online + OOH = The perfect match

Campaigns that included OOH boost ROI in online advertising, paid-social, and search:

Nielsen shows OOH is the best driver of online engagements per dollar spent VS. other media.

Of U.S. adults who have seen an OOH ad:

Combining online and offline marketing channels can boost ROI by 50% over single channel strategies*

Out-of-Home (OOH) advertising offers a powerful way to reach a broad audience and build brand awareness.

Here's how to optimize your OOH campaigns for success now and in the future, leveraging technological advancements and data analytics.

1. Strategic Location Selection:

- i. Utilize audience data platforms, geospatial analytics, and traffic flow data to identify high-traffic areas frequented by your target audience.
- ii. Consider factors like demographics, daily routines, and dwell time using tools like:
 - Nielsen Claritas: Demographics and consumer behaviour data
 - Geopath: OOH audience measurement data with traffic flow information
 - Carto: Location intelligence platform for visualizing audience data on maps

2. Metrics for Success:

- i. Track impressions, but prioritize metrics that demonstrate campaign effectiveness.
- ii. Use website traffic analytics (e.g., Google Analytics) with UTM parameters or unique landing pages linked to OOH placements to measure ad-driven website visits.

3. Compelling Creative that Resonates:

- i. Great designs grab attention
 - Craft visually impactful and memorable creatives relevant to the OOH format (billboard, bus stop ad, etc.) and resonate with your target audience.
 - Keep the message concise and impactful for quick consumption.

4. Measure and Analyze Results:

- i. Don't rely solely on impressions
 - Track website traffic, app downloads, or foot traffic near OOH placements to gauge campaign effectiveness.

- Utilize conversion codes or unique landing pages to understand the impact of OOH ads. Consider solutions like:
 - Integration with other channels
 - Create a cohesive brand experience by integrating OOH advertising with online marketing efforts, social media campaigns, and public relations initiatives.
 - Analyze how OOH exposure influences engagement on other channels.

5. Leverage Short-Term Promotions with Analytics:

- i. OOH is well-suited for promoting limited-time offers or new product launches. This creates a sense of urgency and encourages immediate action.
- ii. Use website traffic data to track the impact of OOH promotions on short-term sales spikes.

1. Programmatic Buying & Dynamic Content:

Technology:

Embrace programmatic buying platforms like Vistar Media or Ayuda Media to automate OOH ad buying based on real-time data and audience demographics.

Combine this with DOOH displays powered by dynamic content management systems (DCS) to showcase content that adapts based on:

- i. Weather Data
- ii. Time of Day
- iii. Local Events

2. Location-Based Targeting & Geofencing

3. Data Source: Utilize mobile location data providers like BluecThru or GroundTruth, to target OOH ads to specific demographics or people in a particular area.

4. Metrics: Track the effectiveness of location-based targeting through website traffic or app download data segmented by user location.

With the emerging new technologies and rapidly changing consumer behaviour, Cybage understands the complexities of this dynamic ecosystem that is out-of-home (OOH).

Our journey has evolved to encompass and incorporate our expertise in AdTech, MarTech, and Publishing and combine it with OOH by providing expert consultancy, which results in aiding businesses (looking to get in/already present in OOH) to scale through brand-safe, privacy-compliant, and data-driven approaches in this domain.

Struggling to sell unsold ad inventory in OOH? Cybage has the solution!

Imagine this: you have valuable ad space, but it's not getting filled through direct buys. That means lost revenue and untapped potential.

But what if there was a way to automate the process, sell that unsold inventory, and boost your business?

Cybage's innovative solution!

1. Cybage has developed a system that streamlines the ingesting of its client's inventory.
2. This system seamlessly integrates with a client's existing publishing systems and programmatic partners.
3. We have built an intelligent internal bidding system that helps your
4. programmatic partners bid on inventory that matches their targeting criteria. It's a win-win situation!
4. The client gets the best possible price for their ad space, and advertisers reach the precise audience they want.

Cybage takes out-of-home advertising to the next level!

Cybage helped an industry leader develop a cutting-edge programmatic advertising and DOOH ad exchange solution.

How was this achieved?

Cybage's innovative solution!

1. Effortless inventory management: We built a self-service portal for publishers, allowing them to manage a massive 1 million ad unit inventory easily.
2. Streamlined deals and approvals: Our portal empowers publishers to
3. manage deals, approve ads, and view reports all in one place.
3. Cutting the cord: Our in-house decision service eliminated the need for a third-party ad server, saving our client a whopping $500,000 monthly!

The results?

Cybage's solution transformed OOH advertising for our client, making it more efficient, cost-effective, and reaching new heights.

Ready to unlock the full potential of your OOH Journey?

Contact Cybage today! Let's discuss how we can help you take your OOH advertising to the digital age and achieve similar success.

09

Conclusion

1. As technology advances, expect more sophisticated ways to measure OOH campaign effectiveness. Look for solutions that connect OOH exposure to online actions or in-store purchases, providing a clearer picture of ROI.
2. Companies like Lotame or Eyeota offer solutions for cross-channel attribution that may include OOH exposure data.
3. By combining these strategies and embracing future trends in data and technology, OOH advertising can become a powerful tool for maximizing return on investment and achieving your marketing goals.

Remember, OOH is best used as part of a holistic marketing strategy, working with online and offline channels.

Cybage Software Pvt. Ltd.

[ISO 27001 Company]

India | USA | Canada | UK | The Netherlands | Germany | Japan | Australia | Singapore | Ireland | Sweden

www.cybage.com